The Peak Goes On

THE PEAK
MEDFIELD
HIGH SCHOOL

This year marks the 80th anniversary of the Medfield High School yearbook, The Peak. In 1925, the first yearbook staff created a book that would not only encompass their time at MHS, but also their town's history.

Today as we reflect back on our years at Medfield, the students of MHS can find one common thread to unite our town's past, present, and future— music. Whether it's the swing music of 1925, or the pop culture of 2005, the music of our lives unleashes the memories of our past. Without even knowing, we use music to solidify the memories that find a special place in our hearts. If only for a moment, hearing a familiar song can take us back to another time and place.

Medfield High School has always had a distinct beat that has shaped the lives of the students. Although the beat has been constant throughout the years, each individual has added his or her own note. It is the combination of those individual notes that makes up the harmony of Medfield High School. As a school and as a community, the beat goes on...

In this great future, you can't forget your past...

Rewinding eighty years, past big hair bands, Woodstock, The Beatles, and the Harlem Renaissance, Dot Kane created the pages of Medfield High School's first yearbook in what is now the Pfaff Center. Titled The Peak at its origination in 1925, our yearbook has transcended time, retaining its unique individuality that continues to represent Medfield High today.

To the nineteen graduating seniors of the class of 1925, the Peak House symbolized the harmony of Medfield. Dot Kane, the only remaining member of our first yearbook staff, found a distinct melody within the vision of the Peak House. Even in 1925, the Peak House was the essence of our hometown, sparking memories of weekly spelling bees, hour long bus rides, watching movies in the Town Hall, and putting on dramatic presentations for the patients of Medfield State Hospital. Although times have changed, the Peak House will continue to bring back the memories of high school to the two hundred and twenty graduating seniors.

Often, the recollections of our past help us to sing our ways into the future. Just as Dot Kane realized eighty years ago, the history of Medfield plays an important role in our lives. We have maintained our small town community spirit. No matter which beat we choose to take in life, we can look back and know that our first notes sounded there.

" It was an honor to meet Dot Kane. Her presence truly touched me. I wish I could do the whole thing over again. "

~ Stefanie Gumas

"Meeting Mrs. Kane was unforgettable. It's not everyday that you get the opportunity to speak with someone who was in your shoes 80 years ago."

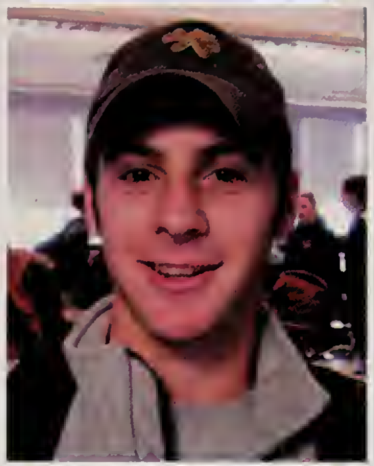
~ Alicia Parmentier

Back Where I Come From...

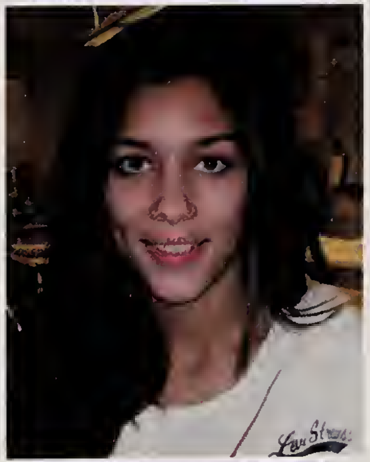
As we begin the next chapter of our lives, we find ourselves looking back on the people and events that have shaped us as individuals. Senior, Melissa Hart, has reflected on her years at Medfield High School, as well as looked to her future. She realizes that her experiences in Medfield will benefit her in college and beyond.

Through her academic career, Melissa feels that she has built confidence from the education and college preparation that she has been provided at Medfield High. While she is excited about meeting new people in college, she knows she will miss seeing the same faces in the halls every day.

Melissa has fond memories of her time spent in Medfield: "In my years at Medfield High School, I have met unique and interesting people, which has broadened my appreciation for others."



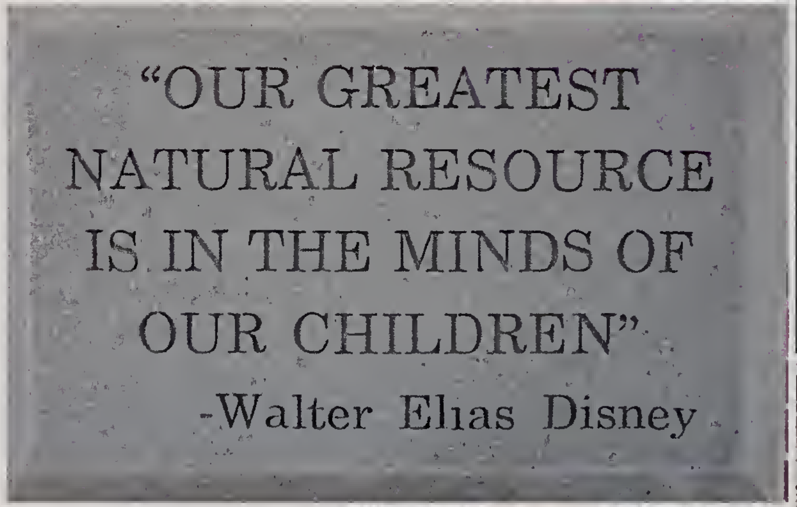
"I've had a great time in Medfield. I'm going to miss it a lot next year."
~ Bob Quitadamo



"I'm really going to miss the close friendships we've made with eachother in this small town."
~ Michele Negoshian

I was born in a small town...

One of the many characteristics that makes Medfield High School such a special place is the town's strong sense of community. Town historian and MHS history teacher Richard DeSorgher attributes these strong community ties to the town's effort to showcase its history. As the 43rd oldest town in Massachusetts, Medfield has always been a town with rich history as well as a town that is continually growing. "One of the main reasons why people choose to live in Medfield, besides the school system, is the presentation of the town's original character. The rural appearance of the town compliments the strong school system, making it an extremely desirable place to live," said Mr. DeSorgher. That is certainly true. The town has also made a large effort to incorporate the its history into the school curriculum, evident in projects such as the 2nd grade historical town tour and the 7th grade house project. Events such as Medfield History Day, as well as the town's trolley and cemetery tours, have served to educate Medfield's residents on the town's past. Mr. DeSorgher also noted that on the town's annual trolley tours, the newer citizens of the town have been just as eager to learn about the town's history as the senior citizens of Medfield, proving once again that Medfield's strong ties to its past make it a truly special place.



"OUR GREATEST NATURAL RESOURCE IS IN THE MINDS OF OUR CHILDREN"
-Walter Elias Disney

"Medfield Day was a huge success. It was hard work but we had fun doing it."

Everytime I hear that song, I go back

On June 5, 2005, this year's graduating seniors will don the famous caps and gowns that symbolize the completion of their journey through Medfield High School. They will wave goodbye to the people they grew up with, walking away from the small town they call home. Over the past four years, the seniors of 2005 have faced both good and bad together. They comforted each other during the tragedy of September 11th, celebrated two Super Bowl victories for the Patriots, watched a war begin, and cheered as the curse of the Red Sox was reversed. After spending nearly twelve years together, facing the "Real World" will be a challenge. As the students go their separate ways, they will remember their years in Medfield, highlighting local events such as sports games, Medfield Day, Spirit Week, Homecoming, and of course, cafeteria cookies. National and regional events have changed every member of the class of 2005, but nothing can compare to the way the students have impacted one another. In twenty years, the students may not remember the fashion and fads of high school, but they will always remember what occurred and the classmates who supported them.

As freshman we entered an unknown world
Our hearts skipping a beat
Racing
Our faint beat following us
As we stumbled through the two front doors

As sophomores we gained confidence
And slowly, but surely
Learned our own beat
As we strolled down each cluttered hallway

As juniors we developed more to our beat
Words, a tune, tempo
Some of us even had our solos ready
As we prepared ourselves to move on up

As seniors we completed our song of high school
That will guide us in the future
In whatever we may do
The beat goes on...

The Best of What's Around

Be True To Your School... Traditionally, Spirit Week is a fun-filled week that concludes with an enthusiastic pep rally. This year was no different. The gym rocked with laughter as students and faculty enjoyed a comical afternoon. From DJ Fandel's crazy bike riding outfits to Callum Borcher's impeccable announcing skills, everyone tuned in to see each "Reality TV"-themed activity. Students entertained their peers and teachers in mock game shows, such as Fear Factor, American Idol and The Bachelor. Thanks to the generosity of the Medfield Boosters, each student received a 2005 "Medfield Pride" T-shirt. That night, Spirit Week ended on a positive note at the Homecoming Game, where the football team swept Millis, with a final score of 33-0.

Home Is Where The Heart Is... This year, due to unfavorable weather, Medfield Day was postponed and rescheduled. Even though it was not held on the traditional day, the event was still a huge success. Under the leadership of Student Council President Christine Fitzgerald, many MHS students woke up bright and early to help out at MEMO's KidZone booth, while field hockey players painted faces and Peer Leaders ran the ever-popular fish game. As always, delicious food and good fun were enjoyed by all.

Cheeseburger in Paradise... This year's Hawaiian-themed Senior Picnic was a blast! The weather was beautiful and the seniors spent the afternoon participating in activities such as tug-of-war, pie-eating contests, and cake-eating contests. Senior class officers provided leis, as well as piñatas, which were hung on the football goalposts, spelling out "2005." Hamburgers, hotdogs, snacks, drinks and dessert were supplied by many MHS teachers, who worked the grills and manned the food tables. Thank you to the class officers, Mr. Delery and Ms. Safer, for their hard work in planning an awesome afternoon!

Brendan Ward sweeps up Sophie Nitishin and strikes a pose.

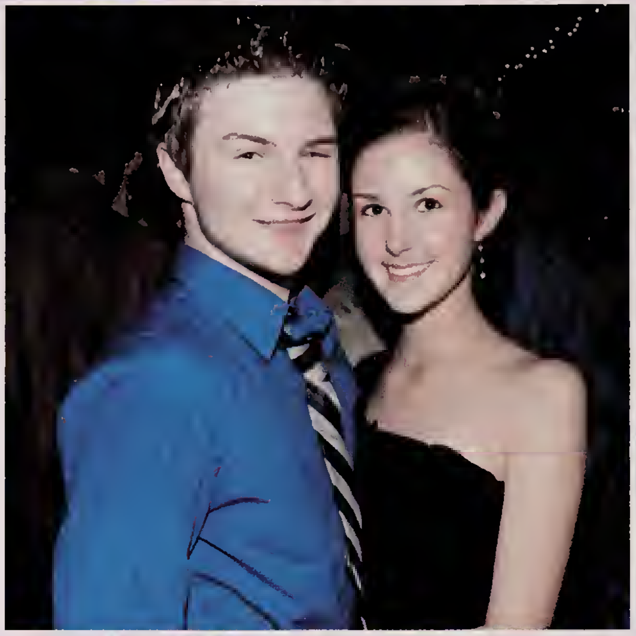
Dancing in the Moonlight



Fancy music played in the hallway as stunning students lined up for the Holiday Dance this year. Pictures were taken, corsages and boutonnieres were exchanged, and memories were made. Student Council did an awesome job decorating the gym and hallways with lights, presents, and posters. It turned out to be a success and a fun night for everyone involved.

MEDFIELD

I Like the Way you Work it

The staff here at Medfield High School is one of the school's biggest assets. From the custodians to the administration, every faculty member is always willing to lend a helping hand. Rarely do days go by that students find Mr. Gibbs absent from the parking lot, or the cafeteria lunch ladies without smiles.

Many teachers go out of their way to spend their afternoons giving extra help, and in return, the students show a great deal of respect for the faculty. Senior Jackie McBrien states, "The education, enviornment, and relationships formed between students and teachers is outstanding and unforgettable." It is certainly the dedicated staff and passionate faculty that help make Medfield High School the special place that it is.

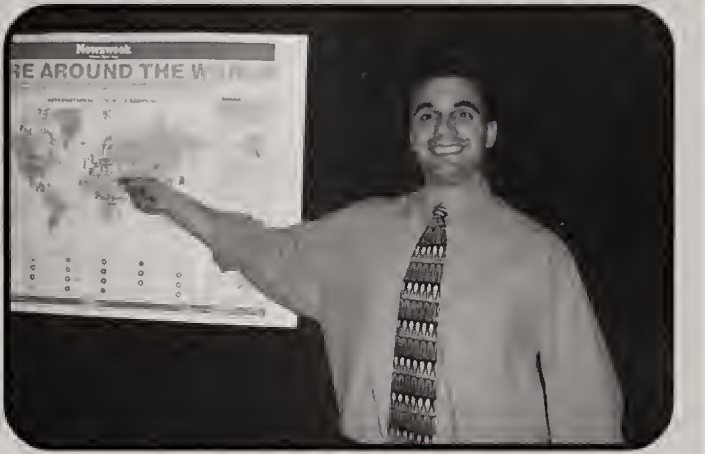
Interviews

I Want to Thank You For Giving Me the Best Day of My Life

For the past seven years, Mr. Panciocco has been a faculty member at MHS. He thinks of his role at Medfield High as, "Teaching to the heart as well as the mind." He describes MHS as "the most pleasant [school] I have ever worked at," even though he did not imagine himself as a teacher. He encourages the seniors to "take full advantage of the opportunities around you as you graduate high school."



Mr. Panciocco

Mrs. Sabra

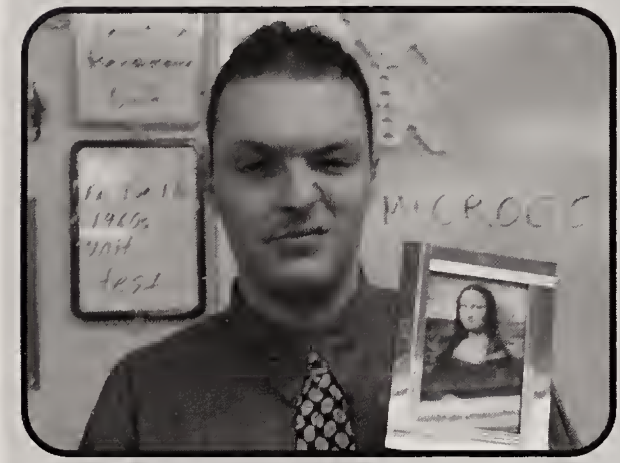
Mrs. Sabra has been an English teacher at MHS for the past ten years, teaching tenth grade Humanities as well as EMS. When she was attending Medfield High School, she knew that she wanted to teach. She feels that MHS is unique because "people truly care about each other." When asked about advice she can offer the graduating seniors, Mrs. Sabra replied, "If you base your life on love, you will be successful in anything you do."

Mr. Salka has been a faculty member at MHS for thirty-seven years. He is currently a cafeteria constable and a permanent substitute, but when he was in high school, he wanted to be a priest. He considers the environment of MHS to be exceptional in many ways. Many students do not feel the need to use locks on their lockers, and Mr. Salka feels that this is an excellent example of honesty within the school. He also feels that the quality of the staff is outstanding and "mutual respect between faculty and students" exists. He hopes that the seniors "follow [their] dreams."

Mr. Salka

Mrs. Hamilton has been teaching at MHS for nineteen years. She decided she wanted to be a science teacher during her freshman year in high school. Mrs. Hamilton teaches the majority of the school's biology classes, including Bio I and Bio II. She feels that MHS is a "warm and friendly" environment. "There are unique relationships among the staff and students. It is just a happy crew." She urges the seniors to "find your passion" as they venture off to college and beyond.

Mrs. Hamilton



Mr. Mandosa

Mr. Mandosa has been an English teacher for juniors and seniors for the past three years. When he was in high school, he never imagined himself being a teacher. He enjoys working in Medfield because he feels it is a "really good bunch." He admires the town pride of the teachers, students, and parents and feels fortunate to be a part of the community. When asked about advice he can offer the seniors, Mr. Mandosa stated, "Although there aren't always answers in life, don't stop asking questions. Also, never lose your keys."

For the past six years, Mrs. Galt has been brightening the lives of her students and colleagues, teaching a variety of mathematics courses. When she was only eight years old, she decided that she wanted to be a teacher. She feels MHS is a unique environment because it is "like a family." She advises the seniors to "be true to yourself, work hard, respect yourself, and the world is out there for you to conquer."

Mrs. Galt

Mr. Gibbs

For thirty-five years, Mr. Gibbs has been a faculty member at MHS. Most recently, he has fulfilled the role of Dean of Students. When he was in high school he saw himself doing something with sports and working with kids. He wanted a job where he would spend his time outside instead of sitting behind a desk. He commented, "Medfield is a special place. No one knows how special it really is. I can't imagine having a better experience with kids than here. I have respect and admiration for the kids here at MHS." He urges the seniors to "dedicate yourself to make society better for your generation and future generations."

For fifteen years, Mrs. Tobiasson has been working in Medfield's schools, teaching art to all grades. When she was in high school she wanted to be an interior decorator, which she was before becoming an art teacher. She considers the environment of MHS to be unique because of the supportive parents and staff. When asked about advice she can offer the graduating seniors, Mrs. Tobiasson responded, "Find what you are passionate about and find ways to fulfill your dreams."

Mr. DeSorgher

For twenty-nine years, Mr. DeSorgher has been teaching in Medfield. For the past 18 years he taught at the middle school, but his passion for a political science course moved him to the high school eleven years ago. He is currently the Student Council Advisor and teaches Political Science, AP United States History, and Democracy in Action. In his senior yearbook, he noted that his intended profession was a history teacher. Mr. DeSorgher feels that Medfield is unique in many ways. "There is a small town atmosphere. The kids care about each other and have respect for one another. When I tell teachers from other places about Medfield, they think I am making it up." When asked about advice he can offer the graduating seniors, Mr. DeSorgher stated, "Enjoy life. It is much too short. Do something you enjoy doing and do your very best at it. Coming out of Medfield you have been given a lot. A lot will be asked of you."

Mrs. Woods has been a math teacher at MHS for ten years. She remarked, "I am of the lucky few that picked the right profession for myself when I was seventeen years old." She knows that MHS is a "special place," and that "people at MHS are more enthusiastic and purposeful than at other high schools. The teachers are very willing to collaborate, which builds a better program." She wanted to pass this advice on to the graduating class: "Attitude and motivation will get you far in life. Be positive about the progress you make and keep dedicated to the pursuit of a goal. Make a firm commitment to that goal and don't get defeated easily."

Livin' On the Edge

The underclassmen are the future of Medfield High School, carrying on the beat long after the senior class is gone. Freshman year, the students embark on a journey that continues until they put on their caps and gowns at graduation. For some, it is a time of bewilderment and curiosity, while for others it is an exciting change. Sophomore year is when students are finally comfortable in the school, holding their heads high because they are no longer the youngest. The time for change is junior year. Students look toward the future as they take the SAT and begin to visit colleges. Good luck to all of the underclassmen as they continue to carry on the beat of Medfield High School!

Never Give up on the Good Times

Imagine Medfield High School without all of the clubs and organizations; it wouldn't be very fun! The clubs are a very important part of school life. From Harmony to the Debate Club, there are so many activities to get involved in, there's a different club or activity for everyone! These groups give the students of MHS a chance to get involved and meet new people. You can get creative in Art Club or Drama, help people in Community Teens, or learn a new game in chess club. Katie Jones, an Amnesty International member said, "It's a great club to be involved in. We write letters to the government with Mr. Stockbridge. It gives you insight about human rights around the world." Jess DeRoche, who is a part of Mr. Gibbs' advisory committee commented, "We meet together to talk about various school issues. It's a really great time because Mr. Gibbs gets to hear what the students want." If you're not part of a club yet, jump into action and join one next year!

Advisory Groups

Let's Get Down to Business

Every month the Advisory Committee meets to discuss student issues, dances, and any other concerns. Three students from each grade are selected to share the views of their class to Mr. Gibbs and the other Advisory members. "It has been a great experience," senior member Jess DeRoche said, "I've loved being involved and seeing Mr. Gibbs as someone who cares rather than an authority figure." Although students look forward to next year, the organization will not be the same without Mr. Gibbs' guidance. His influence and leadership will always be remembered.

New this year is Mr. Keough's Leadership Group. This assembly of MHS students has helped Mr. Keough by informing him of what is going on around school, and what students think should be changed. Members also meet with Student Council and other faculty to discuss certain topics and create solutions for issues. This group is comprised of impressive role models who want to help students and the school any way they can.

The Academic Advisory, which is led by Mrs. Nunes and Mrs. Mandosa, meets monthly to address academic issues. In its first year, the Academic Advisory has already made an impact. They have become very active by adding students' mid-year/final exams onto their report cards. "It is nice to see that the topics we discuss get put in to action," said senior member Christina Crowley, "and that student decisions result in a positive change in the school." The advisory will continue to work with student GPA's, courses, and schedules to enhance the academics at MHS. Together these groups are able to represent the voices and the opinions of the students at Medfield High School. They will continue to lead and advise our school in the right direction.

The Drama Society did a fantastic job putting on all of their shows this year. "This has been an amazing year in Drama," said senior Meghan Magrath. "The group has had so much fun both onstage and off." With each passing performance, each member of Drama was able to sharpen their acting skills.

Many fun events were planned for Drama throughout the year, like the Halloween party, Four Square, Christmakwanzika, and Valentine's Day parties. Each function was a great opportunity for the "Drama Llamas" to bond, which they certainly did.

Thanks to the hard work of President Lizzie McQuillan, Vice President Meghan Magrath, Secretary Liz Mercadante, Treasurer Ashley Zimmerman, and Directors Mrs. Hatem and Mrs. Hutchins, every production has been unforgettable!

This year the Chess Club expanded tremendously. Last year there were only 20 members in the Chess Club and currently there are 145 outstanding members as it continues to grow. The goal of the club is to teach long term strategy, and to show the members how to utilize their minds to the best of their capabilities. "There is nothing more gratifying than being able to plan a strategy, identify all potential roadblocks, and execute your planning to victory," said advisor Mr. Kramer. "We are exercising the most important muscle in our bodies; the brain." The club's most memorable event was when the "Chess Master" came and attempted to defeat everyone in the club. Next year, the chess club hopes to have interscholastic matches.

We are the Champions

Throughout the years, Medfield High School has dominated the Tri-Valley League athletics. This trend continued in 2004, as all of the sports this fall have done a tremdendous job. The football team had one of the most successful seasons in history, and the golf team won the Division III state title for the second consecutive year. Also defending a title was the field hockey team, who were named TVL Champs for the third year in a row. Girls' volleyball, also TVL Champs, finished second in the state, and both the girls' and boys' varsity soccer teams had winning seasons.

Evidently, students at Medfield High School are extremely dedicated to the sports they play. This year, Medfield received the Ames Award in recognition of these outstanding athletics. Out of all the public high schools in the state, Medfield's varsity sports had the highest combined winning percentage last year. Many town residents celebrated on the sidelines as the varsity sports captains joined Curt Schilling on the football field to receive this award. MHS athletes have demonstrated Medfield's dedication and passion to sportsmanship, teamwork, and victory.

The Medfield Football Team hiked its way to the top in the 2004 season. With an outstanding record of 9-0-2, the Warriors just couldn't get enough. The extraordinary leadership of senior captains Bryan Lee, Ryan Ricciardelli, Andrew Haycock and Ryan Pollicella never let the team down. The unforgettable games this season will go down in history in the heart of the players and the spectators. In 2004, Medfield High School saw its best football season in 107 years. They performed once again at the Homecoming pep rally and successfully amped up the school spirit before the game. They cheered their hearts out in the heat, cold, and rain. The cheerleaders also had the privilege of dancing to the music of the pep band at the Curt Shilling pep rally. Being a team of mostly freshmen, the Warrior cheerleaders greatly improved from the beginning of the season, led by captains Kendra Cunningham and Kristin Stadelmann.

Alex Hinga
"Although the scoreboard didn't show it, we had a terrific season and much of our success is attributed to our new coach, Coach Heim. In the little time he had for preseason, he whipped us into shape and got us ready to play."

Geoff Hackett
"It was a fun year, and the team looks strong next year behind all-conference defender, Steve-Maalouf."

The Boys' Soccer Teams had a fun and successful season. One of the highlights of the season was holding onto the Walt Cup in one of the two games won against Dover-Sherborn this season. Another big game for the team this year was a win against Holliston, one of the top teams in the Tri-Valley League. The success this season was because of the new varsity coach, Jason Heim, who is in his third year of coaching at Medfield High School and took over for Tucker Reynolds this year. This year's captains were seniors Alex Hinga, Bob Quitadamo and Geoff Hackett. Alex and Geoff were also both named TVL all-stars. Nigel Fellman-Green, Matt Puder, Mark McCormick, Dave Hubbard and Tim Murphy were the commanding seniors on this year's team.

The Girls' Soccer Team started off on the Kennebec River this year on their second annual white water rafting trip. After a weekend of team bonding, they began their season with a bang. A 2-1 victory over Ashland proved their talent in the first game of the season. The league was competitive this year, but Medfield kept up. Led by senior tri-captains, Steph Pickering, Liz Nugent and Jill Anelauskus, the girls made it to the South Sectional Semi-Finals and battled Archbishop Williams in their last game of the season. Although it was an upsetting loss in double overtime, the Warriors had a great season. Wrapping up the season with an astonishing 15-2 record, the Medfield Golf Team has managed to win another Division III state title. Led by captains Jeff Cutter and John Swanson, the golf team continued to amaze Medfield High School. This year, the Boys' and Girls' Winter Track Teams had great seasons. The boys went undefeated and won the TVL led by captains Matt Tuths, Varun Chirravuri, Phil Kiley, and Alex Hinga. Excellent contributers included Jamie Wulforst on the hurdles and Varun Chirravuri at the shotput. Captained by Allie Calaguire, Amy DeSorgher, Erin Fitzgerald and Julie Zaia, the girls were virtually unbeatable, except against their biggest rival, Hopkinton. Distance runners Kristin Marshall and Amy Skerry proved themselves key members of the girls' team, and both teams look to advance to the Class D Relays and the State Meet to complete their outstanding seasons.

The combined Medfield/Dover-Sherborn Gymnastics team had a great season. Only in its fifth year as a varsity program, the team has grown in popularity and competitiveness. Coach Bill Matyskiel helped to prepare the team for their Bay State League Meets. This year's squad was led by senior captain Jordan Tesorero, and solid contributions were also made by sophomore Tori Carpenito. The two schools combined to create a great team of talented gymnasts who had a successful season.

The tremendous victory over Dover-Sherborn started the season off right, as the Warriors made their mark in the Tri-Valley League. Coach Herb Grace continued to work the boys hard, and practice paid off as the team held strong against even the most challenging teams. Medway will remain one of the most memorable games of the season. Senior Captain Evan Moon remembers his team as "the best team I've ever been a part of." It was a competitive season for the girls, who stayed strong the entire time. With team dinners, bowling tournaments and "get togethers" after the games, the girls bonded with each other. The five seniors Jill Anelauskas, Christine Fitzgerald, Courtney Enright, Alicia Parmentier, and Maura Connelly will be missed next year. It was an unforgetable season. DJ Fandel

"Four years of dangling just wasn't enough. Every time you hit the ice you better be working 9000%. Good luck next year boys. Make it happen"

The varsity Hockey team had an exciting season this year. All three captains, Bryan McCarthy, D.J. Fandel, and Jeff Cutter were named all-stars. Welcome to BIG

The Big Blue Varsity Cheerleaders had a great season this year. The girls were full of spirit for the basketball team, and they particpated in many competitions of their own. This is the first season that the squad had more than two chances to compete against others in the league, and they were very excited for the opportunity. Led by captains Laura Mitchell and Kristin Stadelmann, the team experienced one of the best seasons yet. They held many team dinners and even a team sleepover to bring them closer together. Their extensive practices and bonding sessions definitely paid off.

Never Say Goodbye to Tomorrow

Its always sad to say goodbye,
a look, a glance and then a sigh,
and if you were to ask me why,
this is what I would reply.
Leaving isn't easy,
my friend it isn't easy.
Goodbye, so long we'll see you all again.
The years have passed so fast you see,
I look at what's become of me.
I know I see things differently,
the things I've learned must be the key.
Leaving isn't easy,
my friend it isn't easy.
Goodbye, so long we'll see you all again.

Here's To You, Mr. Gibbs...

A Dedication to our Dean

This year Medfield High School is not only saying goodbye to the class of 2005, but also to the Dean of Students, David Gibbs. He began his career touching the lives of students as a basketball coach in 1977, and has since become one of the most respected leaders of Medfield High School. His commitment to helping students over the past 35 years has changed MHS in a positive way. As Mr.Gibbs 'graduates' in 2005, the senior class would like to honor his devotion to MHS by dedicating the yearbook to him.

It's difficult to imagine the high school without Mr. Gibbs. Whether he is on the loudspeaker "regaadin" parking, patrolling the halls to keep kids in line, or munching on snacks during lunch, Mr. Gibbs has always been an available resource for students. The class of 2005 will be leaving Medfield High School with lasting memories of the man who has led them through the last four years. "Mr. Gibbs has made a huge impact on our school," said Liane Squiers, "he's done so much for the students and will really be missed next year."

Leading students is a very challenging job and Mr.Gibbs has taken on the role admirably. An approachable leader and authority figure, he has balanced friendship and discipline in his relationship with the student body, setting an example for both students and teachers alike. Mr. Gibbs will be remembered as a Dean of Students dedicated to the safety and well-being of the MHS community. The high school has grown a great deal under his leadership and he will be greatly missed. Thank you, Mr. Gibbs, for your passion and commitment; the Class of 2005 wishes you the best of luck in the future.

A Warrior Lives Forever

A Memorial to Eric Michael Perkins

December 17, 1985 - November 26, 2004

As we reflect back on your precious life, we realize that no words will ever exist to capture the amazing person you were. The void you left in the hearts of those who loved you will never be fulfilled. The countless memories that you have shared with others will be remembered forever. You were a son, a brother, a friend, a teammate, and a musician. In a word, you were irreplaceable.

Your father thought of you as his pride; your mother as her big teddy bear; and your brother as his best friend.

As a teammate, you always had a positive outlook and attitude toward your fellow players and coaches. Your love for the game was evident to all those that watched you play, and the respect your teammates had for you was unmeasured. As a musician, you were talented and dedicated. There will always be an open spot for you onstage.

Most of us remember you as a dear friend; those of us that did not know you as a friend will still remember you as a smiling face. Your presence will live on in all of us, even in those who did not have the privilege of calling you a friend.

Your infectious laugh, infinite facial expressions, incomparable bear hugs, and inimitable noises will be sorely missed.

No matter where we go or who we meet in our lives, there will always be a special place for you in our hearts. Your song will go on forever; a warrior lives forever; we love you…

as we go on...

We remember...

These Are the Moments

Rewind your life. Through the incoherent squeaking of your personal tape, you manage to make out what seems to be the tune of your entire life as a student. You smirk as you hear the familiar voice of Mr. Gibbs announce "Regaadin' paaakin'" for the last time. You begin to dance as you listen to your favorite Oldies 103.3 song through the speaker, picturing yourself standing in hallway traffic. You recall frustratingly clenching money in your hand when you overhear someone complaining that the cookies are hard today.

The tape buzzes along, past your four years at MHS, and smoothly transitions into the days at Blake. You laugh as you hear one of the many announcements demanding, "Will the 8th grade please report to the gym immediately?" You listen in awe as you hear your teachers promise that you are digging up age-old artifacts at the Wight House. Your tape is halfway rewound; you approach the 2-year stretch at Dale Street.

You hear the thumping of the ugliest contraption you had ever laid eyes upon and remember throwing it out of a second story window in order to see if it could protect an egg. You groove to the beat of "MMMBop" as you visualize the cafeteria, remembering your excitement about "Kids Night Out!" The tape continues to rewind itself to the days of Wheelock.

The excitement of the "mat maze" blares so loud from your tape player that you feel your eardrums begin to pop. You are calmed down by the harmonious voices of 2nd graders singing "50 Nifty United States." The rewinding seems to slow as the tape brings you back to Memorial. You hear the voices of the "letter people" and remember their special appearances on videotapes. Finally, you listen to a mixture of laughs and sobs as the school bus drives away from your parents for the first time ever.

The rewind button pops up, but you are too engrossed in your memories to notice. Although the tape of your life at Medfield Schools is over, the memories cannot be stopped by the push of a button. As the class of 2005, we all have produced our own tapes, and personalized them with our unique tunes. Unlike an actual cassette, these can not be misplaced. The past 12 years have been permanently recorded in our memories. Years from now we can replay our tapes from wherever life may lead us and listen to where it all began.....September 1992...
